Lead Live Learn's Capabilities

About Founder Celina Mattocks

Celina has seen far too many large transformation initiatives fail because teams were unclear of the direction, were not skilled, or were not involved in the change. She found that learning & development evolving alongside tech is the solution.

Celina and her team of developers and creatives are bridging the generations of leaders in the workforce. She sees emerging technology to connect senior leadership with future talent, and as a tool to develop strong, capable, confident and respectful leaders, who will ultimately use Artificial Intelligence (AI) to benefit humanity.

Celina Mattocks is a high energy Woman-in-Tech with nearly 20 years of experience as a Management Consultant focused on Change in Fortune 500s and a Human Resources Trainer. With a Master of Science degree in Organization Development, she is now the founder and CEO of Lead Live Learn, LLC a professional development company bringing the Future of Learning across generations to life.

Celina is a 2x published author and was named a past Top 100 Emerging Leader by Diversity Awards. Celina is a wife, a mother of two, and enjoys her many friendships.
